PAGODA OF INVISIBLE VALUE

Our daily lives are submerged in visual stimulus. On the surface, it might seem that we are consuming images and other visual media, whether it be by scrolling down social media or carefully editing and curating parts of our lives to portray a certain image of ourselves to others. However, it is easy to lose our center while we are at it. Perhaps we are consuming the visuals like the empty calories of fast food: fleeting moments of pleasure, followed by shy regrets. I want to communicate the values overtaken by the sudden wave of sense of void.

We all hold, deep in our inner world, pagodas of invisible values - not of secular currencies, but of hope, trust, justice, and a sense of ownership. While we often forget the significance of such values in the midst of bustling livelihood, such invisible values serve us as a guiding light in life.

I hope to bring moments of treasure value to your meaningful life through the 'PAGODA OF INVISIBLE VALUE'.
